ITALY'S PREPARATIONS FOR CAMPAIGN

Now Almost Completed

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Rome, Sept. 27.

Italy's preparations for the East Africa Campaign have now been almost completed. The famous 14th Infantry Regiment of the Gransasso Division, comprising 71 officers and two thousand men left Naples on Friday on board the steamer, "Sannio" after having been reviewed by the Crown Prince.

Sixty officers and five hundred men of the machine gun detachment will follow on board the steamer "Aventino" while another transport vessel with four thousand men on board is scheduled to sail on Saturday.

The embarkation of the mobilized divisions will thereby be nearly concluded. Two militia divisions, the "Tevere" and "First of April" are still in their training quarters and will be sent to East Africa sometime in October.

PRESS ATTACKS

The Italian Press still continues to indulge in violent outbursts against the League of Nations, and generally take its polemics as auguring none too well for the success at further attempts at conciliation. The Friday afternoon edition of the semi-official "Giornale D'Italia" deals some what ironically with the "absurdity of the Geneva methods," stressing that Italy has other matters to attend to than to grow excited about the Geneva proceedings.

While a mild autumn still reigns in Geneva, Abyssinia is now celebrating the termination of the rainy season. The day will not be far away when the Geneva conversations will be interrupted by the thunder of cannons and gentlemen at Geneva will then take notice that Italy has begun to settle its old and new scores.

Italy is well aware that for forty years the five hundred dead of Dogali and the five thousand of Alba Garima are still unburied and unavenged. This last sentence referred to the victims of Italy's military disaster in Abyssinia in 1896.

PROCEEDINGS AT GENEVA

Geneva, Sept. 27.

The presidium of the League of Nations Assembly resolved on Friday afternoon to introduce a motion in Saturday's sitting of the Assembly—which morally would have been a final one of the present sessions—instead of dissolving, so that they may re-assemble theoretically in the same session if necessity should arise, thus avoiding the protracted formalities required for the calling of a special meeting.

In the course of a short debate preceding this decision, the Italian delegate raised objections against the proposed proceeding which in his opinion was calculated to exert pressure on the activities of the League Council.

The new Committee of Thirteen composed of all members of the League Council, except the Italian representative, and charged with the momentous task of instituting proceedings under Article XV, Section IV, by drawing up a report containing recommendations deemed "just and proper," held their first sitting on Friday, and elected the Spanish delegate, Senor Madariaga, as chairman.

ABYSSINIA'S TELEGRAM

Senor Madariaga opened the discussion by giving a survey of the facts of the case and also called attention of the Emperor to Abyssinia's last telegram, in which it was suggested that the League should send impartial observers to Abyssinia, who, may report on any incident which may occur.

The committee decided to entrust the commission to military experts composed of three French, Spanish and British officers with the task of examining the feasibility of the Emperor's proposal.

Negus had been advised by wire that his suggestions are under consideration. The appointment of a commission of experts, however, is generally regarded as a mere formality, since it is opined that the observers would arrive too late on the spot, to fix responsibility for the eventual outbreak of hostilities.

It is, moreover, pointed out that it would be practically impossible, in view of the vast expanse of the Abyssinian Empire, to ascertain where the first clash is likely to occur. The Committee of Thirteen will meet again on Saturday forenoon.

REPLY TO NEGUS

Geneva, Sept. 27.

The text to the League Council Committee's reply to the telegram sent by Negus which now has been published reads: "The Council Committee noted your Majesty's decision to withdraw Abyssinian troops thirty kilometres from the frontier and appreciates the spirit in which this decision has been made."

The committee is devoting their greatest attention to the request for a despatch of impartial observers, and at present are examining the question whether actual circumstances would permit observers to fulfill their duties.

EDEN'S FIRM STAND

London, Sept. 27.

The "Liberal Star" claims authority for stating that Mr. Anthony Eden had recently been compelled during his stay in Geneva to adopt a firm stand against "certain diplomatic influences in London" which had almost succeeded in "taking the ground from beneath his feet."

The paper goes on to say that this pressure was brought to bear by circles "who were bent with reconciling with Italy at all costs. Happily the danger of the League of Nations being betrayed for Mussolini's sake has been averted."

The paper concludes by writing that Mr. Eden who is coming to London for the week-end will report to the Premier, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, on these unforeseen difficulties.

EXCURSION TO MACAO

Over 30 members of the Wah Yan Past Students Association boarded the s.s. Chuen Chow on Saturday for their first outing outside Harbour limits. The destination was Macao and the party which was under Mr. Fung Kwok Wa went to the Greyhound racing and various Government schools and organs.

During their short sojourn there the party visited the Loh Gardens and other interesting places. They all had a good time there and spoke highly of the arrangements which were in the hands of the Central Hotel.

The party returned to Hong Kong yesterday by the s.s. Kum Shan. Among those who took advantage of the excursion were: Messrs. Fung Kwok-wa (Chairman), Ko Fook-sun (President), Yeung Yu-an (Vice-President), Kwai Yim-chor (Hon. Treasurer), Joseph Ng (Hon. Secretary) and Chan Wai-chuen.

JAPANESE DEMANDS IN NORTH CHINA

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 10.

The Chinese Government yesterday replied to the Japanese demands in connection with the recent train robbery in North China, virtually accepting all the conditions, most of which have already been carried out. The Japanese, however, are still keeping open the Luanchow incident. They are also closely watching events in North China, where they now consider that General Sung Che-yuan, the new commander of the Peking and Tientsin garrisons, is the dominant figure.

The Japanese military authorities state that Sung Che-yuan has changed his attitude since his dismissal from the position of Governor of Chahar and that he is now acceptable. Sung Che-yuan, who commands 60,000 troops, enjoys the support of Chin Tsh-chun, his former lieutenant in Chahar and now Governor of

INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING

Alternative Plan Suggested

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 6.

The principle of international rationalisation of merchant shipping was accepted last week by all the members of the International Shipping Conference except the United States, and to-day details are published of a voluntary scheme put forward by the British organisations as an alternative to the compulsory scheme adumbrated at a preliminary meeting in January. No one seriously doubts that there exists at present an excess of tonnage in relation to demand and that freights have been unduly depressed. There is 50 per cent more tonnage competing for freights than in 1913, and Lord Essendon has urged that of the 45,000,000 gross tons now competing one-fifth should be laid up or scrapped. It must be remembered that much of this tonnage has been kept aloft not by ordinary business methods but through extravagant subsidies poured out by national Governments in the name of prestige. In spite of these subsidies some 9,000,000 tons is already laid up, and so desperate had the position become by the end of last year that a conference was held to consider a scheme of compulsory international rationalisation that had before been only thought possible by men who were deemed the wildest idealists. Briefly, the scheme was to establish a financial pool raised by a levy on the tonnage of countries participating in the scheme and out of it to pay compensation for a large number of ships that were to be laid up on an agreed basis. A similar scheme had been established for tankers in the summer of 1934. This, the Scherwater plan, was commended by Mr. Runciman as "an admirable attempt at rationalisation," and its success has given especial encouragement to the more ambitious scheme for the compulsory laying up of an agreed proportion of all mercantile tonnage.

SOME OBSTACLES

Nevertheless, it has been generally recognised that there are some substantial obstacles to the compulsory scheme, and for this reason the British plan will receive careful study. The two biggest obstacles are that in most countries legislation would be needed for the levy on tonnage (if only to coerce a recalcitrant minority), and that when the question of compensation arises liners as distinct from tramp steamers a ways provide a complication. The British organisations therefore propose to eliminate the financial pool and to substitute an international agreement among the members of the conference to lay up redundant tonnage. In support of this proposal, emphasis is laid upon an agreement recently concluded for minimum freight rates on some of the most important tramp routes. If, it is argued, shipowners can co-operate to that extent, may they not also accept a voluntary non-contributory scheme of international rationalisation? Of course, the plan is not as simple as it sounds, but the British industry, traditionally so individualist, is to be congratulated on at last giving a lead in the matter. Among the difficulties that remain is the position of liners which might, if an arrangement is not also made with them, take advantage of the reduction in tramp tonnage. Another and bigger problem is that of the subsidies. President Roosevelt would like to reduce the American subsidies, but his proposed legislation has yet to go through, while other countries are talking of increasing theirs. But there seems to be no real reason why the subsidy question should interfere with the attempt at rationalisation except that a truce against an increase in subsidies might need to be signed. On the other hand, if the scheme were effective and freight rates were improved there would be a strong argument for a further agreement to reduce or abolish all such wasteful expenditure.

that province. Some 12,000 of General Sung Che-yuan's troops arrived here after the rebel attack on Peking on June 28, and more are coming to take the place of the remaining troops.

Sung Che-yuan is still at Tientsin, where he retired from Kalzan, but he is expected here to assume office shortly, when certain adjustments will be made to his satisfaction.

TEMPERS WEAR THIN IN THE DISPUTE

Rome, Sept. 27.
The League Council's decision to appoint the Committee of Thirteen to report on the Italo-Ethiopian dispute will be discussed at a Cabinet meeting in Rome tomorrow at 10 o'clock in the morning. After the meeting the usual communiqué will be issued.

While officially the Italian attitude towards proceedings at Geneva is very calm, indifferent tempers in the capital are wearing thin and irritation against Great Britain is growing. For it is felt that despite Sir Samuel Hoare's conciliatory message to Signor Mussolini this week, the British attitude towards Italy's claims has not changed by a hair's breadth.

An unsigned article in "Tribuna" believed to have been written by Signor Mussolini himself, says that sanctions do not exist in the League Covenant.

Article XVII, he says, only refers to the breaking off of financial and commercial relations. As Fascist Italy never has borrowed a penny, she cannot be denied that for which she never asked.

"The countries agitating for sanctions are those who sell us more than they buy from us. If they don't want to buy or sell any more, we thank them, because we would then get used to buying only necessities from others," says the writer.

"But if anyone thinks of a blockade, then it is a question of war and we will reply with acts of war."

Reuter.

WEIGHED EVERYTHING

Paris, Sept. 27.
"I have reflected well, calculated all and weighed everything," declares Signor Mussolini, Italian Dictator, in an interview with the correspondent of "Le Petit Journal."

"Two million sons of our old sought the honour of going out thereto to serve and, if necessary, to die. Who could bring them back before they have obtained the fruits of their heroism and sacrifice?" he added.

"If I were asked to choose between peace and life I should reply, 'Life,' he asserted, 'and if I were offered both peace and life I should acquiesce.'"

Reuter.

LEAGUE QUARTERS PESSIMISTIC

Geneva, Sept. 27.

Although League quarters today are even more pessimistic as to the outcome of the negotiations for the peaceful settlement of the Ethiopian imbroglio at the same time it is persistently reported that Signor Benito Mussolini, Prime Minister of Italy, has informed the French Ambassador at Rome of his willingness to treat with the League of Nations in an effort to find a compromise formula.

It is suggested the Italian Dictator may even submit proposals on Monday.

Reuter.

ALOISI PROTESTS

Geneva, Sept. 27.

"The decision of the Bureau of the Assembly to recommend that the Assembly adjourn 'sine die,' instead of dissolving in the ordinary way, has led to a protest by Baron Aloisi of Italy."

He told the Bureau that in his opinion the proposed action would be a violation of the Constitution of the League, as the Assembly was not formally concerned with the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

Moreover, the Ethiopian problem had been fully discussed already, during the contemplation of the Secretary-General's reports and matters there were "closed as far as the Assembly was concerned."

There was no constitutional reason for keeping the Assembly in being, and politically such action might be interpreted as designed to put pressure on the League Council.

Reuter.

DELICATE SITUATION

It is learned that Baron Aloisi, Italy's spokesman at Geneva, had planned to go to Rome to-day to report upon the delicate situation, but he was instructed to remain in Geneva for the present.

Reuter.

NEUTRAL OBSERVERS

Geneva, Sept. 27.

A plan to send League of Nations aerial police to Ethiopia, in response to the Emperor's request for neutral observers, is at present under consideration. Such a force would comprise a squadron of eight planes, each with pilot and observer, which would maintain supervision along a 1,000-mile frontier.

If the plan materialises, Ethiopia would be asked to prepare suitable landing grounds rapidly. It is also suggested that five land observation posts be established at the principal points in the frontier districts.

Reuter.

EMPEROR THANKED

Geneva, Sept. 27.

The Committee of Thirteen, which has elected Signor de Madariaga its President, has telegraphed the Ethiopian Emperor thanks for his action in withdrawing Ethiopian troops thirty kilometres from the frontier in order to avoid any incident.

It is learned that the Committee will reply to the Negus's request for observers to visit the threatened frontiers, stating the Committee is considering the plan but doubts whether actual circumstances would permit observers to discharge their mission.

Reuter.

U.S. MAY AID SANCTIONS

Geneva, Sept. 27.

A most interesting statement with regard to sanctions with which the President of the United States might associate himself, has been issued in the name of Professor R. L. Buell, President of the Foreign Relations Association of the United States.

Professor Buell suggests five measures: namely, withdrawal of the American diplomatic representatives from Rome; no recognition of any situation created by Italy in Ethiopia in violation of the Covenant or the Pact of Paris; an embargo on the export of munitions and implements of war to Italy; and acquiescence in a League of Nations blockade and in the closing of the Suez Canal to Italian shipping.

Reuter.

ASSEMBLY SUSPENDS

The League of Nations Assembly will be kept in a state of suspended animation pending some clarification of the Italo-Ethiopian situation, it is announced.

A meeting of the Bureau of the Assembly this afternoon decided on this course, and will formally propose it to a full Assembly session tomorrow so that it will be possible to summon the body within twenty-four hours.

Reuter.

LONDON TALKS

London, Sept. 27.

Important consultations between Mr. Anthony Eden, the Minister for League of Nations Affairs, and leaders of the Government, with regard to preparations for the League Council's report on the Italo-Ethiopian dispute, will probably be held early next week.

It is expected that Mr. Eden will return from Geneva during the week-end to meet Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the Prime Minister, and Sir Samuel Hoare, the Foreign Minister, on Monday or Tuesday.

Reuter.

ASSURANCES BY LITHUANIA

Fairplay In Memel Elections

Geneva, Sept. 27.

A joint letter, signed by M. Pierre Laval, the French Prime Minister, Mr. Anthony Eden, the British Minister for League of Nations Affairs, and Baron Aloisi, the Italian diplomatic representative at Geneva, has been sent to the League Council stating that the Lithuanian Government has given its assurances that the elections on Sunday will be fairly carried out and the constitution of Memel respected.

The German Government has been informed in this regard and it is hoped that the Reich will recognise the desirability of giving some proof of the same good intentions by taking all expedient measures and helping to improve and to tranquillise the German-Lithuanian relations.

NEW ECONOMIC UNION

Launched In Hopei

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Peiping, Sept. 22.
To devise measures for the industrial development to Hopei and to carry out plans for the general economic advancement of the province entrusted thereto by the Central Government comprise the chief aims of the Hopei Economic Union which has formally inaugurated here yesterday afternoon. Presided over by Mr. Chow Tso-min, managing-director of the Kinchen Banking Corporation, the inaugural meeting was attended by more than 30 prominent leaders of local industrial and banking circles.

The members of the new economic organ is to be composed of representatives of the Chambers of Commerce of Tientsin and Peiping, managers or directors of Chinese banking concerns in these two cities and a number of economic experts. The regulations of the new organization provide for a technical committee to be formed under the Union to study the various economic problems in Hopei. The head office of the Union will be established in Peiping and a branch office may be established in Tientsin if necessary.

FOREIGN CAPITAL

It is pointed out that the economic exploitation of Hopei should be made by the people themselves under the supervision, and with the assistance, of the Central Government. In case funds are required the Central Government should not hesitate to render financial aid and if the sum required is beyond the ability of the Government, foreign capitalists may be approached. It is to serve the private investors that the Union is formed. In order to carry out the said plans for economic development, Mr. Chow Tso-min declared in an interview yesterday it may be necessary to accept foreign capital, but the union will be responsible for

"ABYSSINIA NOT ON MARKET"

Emperor's Reply To Geneva

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 10.

The feeling of hopefulness inspired here by the report that Signor Mussolini will not attack while the Committee of Five is sitting in a renewed effort to bring about a settlement, was counterbalanced to-day by the news of ominous activity on the part of the Italians.

The Abyssinian Government announced officially this morning that a message from the North-Eastern province reported important forward movements of troops on the Eritrean side, indicating preparations for an offensive.

This news, coupled with the arrival here of two Italian Consuls from the interior, and the declaration yesterday that all Consulates in the country are to be closed suggests that the hopes of a satisfactory outcome at Geneva is not shared by the Italians themselves.

40-MILE FRONT

The War Ministry was first, advised three days ago that Italian infantry and artillery had begun to move southward from Asmara towards a front near the Mareb River, which divides Eritrea and Abyssinia. It is estimated that, since then about 10,000 Italians have advanced due south to Ad-diquala and south-east to Baracchi.

Only two roads are available for heavy transport, and positions have already been taken up along a line roughly 40 miles long between those points. Other forces have been sent further to the westward, and there have been extensive transfers of troops east and west of Asmara.

LESSON SERMON

First Church Of Christ

"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 29th, 1935.

The Golden Text was "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning." (James 1:17).

Among the Citations which comprised the Lesson Sermon was the following from the Bible: "But Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and anon they tell him of her. And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them. And she healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him." (Mark 1:30, 31, 34).

The Lesson Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health" with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit imparts the understanding which uplifts consciousness and leads into all truth. The Psalmist saith: 'The Lord on high is mightier than the noise of many waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the sea.' Spiritual sense is the discernment of spiritual good. Understanding is the line of demarcation between the real and the unreal. Spiritual understanding unfolds Mind—Life, Truth, and Love—and demonstrates the divine sense, giving the spiritual proof of the universe in Christian Science." (p. 505).

GOOD WILL IN PACIFIC

Japanese Envoy In Australia

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 10.

Mr. Debuchi, the Japanese good will envoy, whose presence in Melbourne has evoked the most cordial expressions of friendship for Japan, states that he can see no basis whatever for either political or economic rivalry between Australia and Japan. In the past, he says, there have been misunderstandings, chiefly through lack of knowledge of the respective points of view, but there is now none. Even if Australia were thrown open to Japanese immigration, the Japanese would not leave their own shores, where their destiny lay.

Speaking at a State luncheon, Sir Frank Clarke, President of the Victorian Legislative Council, said Australia wished Japan well as long as she confined her expansion to the north and west.

Sir John Latham, whose good will mission to Japan last year inspired Mr. Debuchi's visit, said the Pacific era was about to dawn. It was hoped that the Pacific nations would manage their affairs better than the old world managed theirs. Mr. Debuchi, replying, said: "While the baroque of the Western world appears once again, to be pitching in the turbulent seas, we of the Pacific steer serenely on our course through the tranquil waters of peace, accord, and good will."

STAR OF MIDNIGHT

That favourite axiom of the French police, "cherchez la femme", acquires a vital significance in "Star of Midnight" coming on Wednesday at the King's Theatre. RKO-Radio's new mystery romance starring William Powell and Ginger Rogers.

It's necessary to "find the woman" to solve the mystery of who killed Tommy Tennant, newspaper columnist. And finding Alice Harkham, alias Mary Smith, is "just like looking for a needle in a haystack." First, she's seen vanishing in a taxi cab. Then she disappears from a theatre stage.

Powell and Ginger Rogers, the screen's newest romantic and sleuthing combination take up the trial and a whole flock of interesting adventures befall them.

"Star of Midnight" is based on the Redbook magazine serial of the same name by the late Arthur Somers Roche, master mystery fictionist. The background is that of post-repeal New York. Howard J. Green, Anthony Veiller and Edward Kaufman wrote the screen play which Stephen Roberts directed. The cast includes Paul Kelley, Ralph Morgan, Leslie Fenton, Gene Lockhart, Russell

SECRET BRIDE

There's no one chance in a million of committing a perfect crime, according to Frank B. Compert, nationally known criminologist attached to the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Office. Compert's knowledge of crime detection led to his being engaged by Warner Bros. to supervise filming of scenes of a criminological laboratory in the "Secret Bride" next change at the Queen's Theatre.

"Some trace, some clue, always remains," he said "when a crime is committed. It may seem insignificant but it's always there. Often these clues are difficult to find, but once located they open the way for detectives to start work on the actual search for the criminal. "The Secret Bride" is Barbara Stanwyck's most dramatic production and is a thrilling tale of baffling murders connected with a political frame-up. Warren William plays opposite Miss Stanwyck while others in the cast include Glenda Farrell, Grant Mitchell, Arthur Byron, Henry O'Neill and Douglas Dumbrille.

Hopton, J. Farrell MacDonald and Vivian Oakland.

THE RAVEN

At The King's

Those who have a likeness for "thrillers" will find plenty to entertain them in "The Raven" which is the current attraction at the King's Theatre. We all remember "Frankenstein" with Boris Karloff as the Monster and then there was Dracula with Bela Lugosi. Just imagine then, these two together in one film!

This film, which was adapted from Edgar Allan Poe's thriller, is quite different to the other pictures of this nature that we have all been used to see. It will perhaps be remembered that in every film he has played to-day, Karloff has been killed in the final sequences. He just manages to escape death in "The Raven" and the way in which he does so is—out it will be spoiling your fun by telling you all about the picture.

Karloff and Lugosi both score heavily in the picture but a word of praise must also be given to the supporting cast for the excellent way in which they rally to the support of the leading players.—F.M.A.

AN EXCELLENT FILM

Gold Diggers Of 1935

The best musical to come to the screen is the Warner Bros. "Gold Diggers of 1935," now showing to packed houses at the Queen's Theatre.

This annual picture which was started six years ago has improved by leaps and bounds as it goes along and "1935" sees it in its "best," with the musical scores, songs, dances, dialogue and production far above all its predecessors.

The picture which is well blended has for its plot a romance running through it with Powell and Gloria Stuart, portraying the lovers. Frank McHugh and Dorothy Dare have a serio-comic love affair. Granda Farrell the only gold digger of the fair sex made a "foe" of Hugh Herbert, an eccentric millionaire.

Alice Brady as the rich miserly millionaire, supplies plenty of laughs while Adolphe Menjou as the penniless Nicoleff, a great director, is grand.

The dances which were well directed has several interesting numbers, one of which features hundreds of pianos played by beautiful girls. The scenes are all on a marvellous scale and the music, like all other Warner Bros. musicals, is of a very high standard.

All in all, "Gold Digger of 1935" is a picture that is hard to surpass and is worth seeing. O.M.O.

RESIDENTS ALARMED

Penang, Sept. 19.

Penang's "Invisible Man" whose haunt in the vicinity of Patani Road has been causing some alarm to the residents, seems to be on the prowl again. Apparently overcome by modesty at the amount of publicity he had been getting of late, he retired to seclusion for a while, but not for long. Perhaps his sense of humour got the better of him but whatever it is, rumour has it that this mysterious creature is out to assert itself.

SIR HENRY FILDES

And His Policy Regarding Soviet Russia

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 8.

Sir Henry Fildes, the National Government candidate in the Dumfriesshire by-election, at Lochmaben replied to the challenge made to him by Mr. John Downie, the Labour nominee, to state his policy regarding Russia. It had been reported, said Sir Henry, that, at a recent meeting, Mr. Downie had come to the conclusion that "The solution of the whole problem was Great Britain to ally with the Soviet and other countries, if possible the United States of America, and pool their resources, allocate the labour, and distribute it over the whole of the population."

Mr. Downie had expressed disapproval of Sir Henry's comments upon that pronouncement. He (Sir Henry) had given it as his opinion that the bloodstained track of the Russian Revolution, leading as it did to the ultimate establishment of a rigid, despotic dictatorship, would not commend itself to the accomplished and aspirations of the British people.

Sir Henry said he saw no reason for altering or varying that opinion by one word. Mr. Downie asked whether he would trade with Russia.

VASTLY DIFFERENT THING

Whatever his opinion might be upon the brutal, the shocking methods by which the present regime secured the opportunity to strangle freedom and suffocate free speech, it was no concern of his, so long as the Russian people continued to acquiesce in this state of affairs.

He would trade with them, as he would trade with any other community needing our goods to add to the comfort and to improve the conditions of life of their oppressed people.

That, however, was a vastly different thing to the suggestion that we should ally ourselves with Soviet Russia, pool our resources, allocate labour and distribute the residue over the whole of the rest of the population.

He was fighting this election upon the record of the National Government, and it, in Mr. Downie's opinion, the solution to the whole of our problems could be met by annexing the hard-earned funds deposited in the Post Office Savings Bank, the whole of our assets and possessions, and then, after Russia had completed the same process, distribute the proceeds to both populations, he was of a different opinion.

Mr. Downie said that, if possible, he would include the U.S.A.

Accordingly a Press representative visited the scene of the ghost's reported activities and from inquiries made, it would appear that the story is not entirely without its authenticity.

A STINGING SLAP
It will be recalled that on a previous occasion, crockery and kitchen utensils were hurled about in a conservancy inspector's house by an invisible hand and that some clothing hanging on the wall was mysteriously burnt. To add to this unpleasant experience, there now comes an even more startling report. This time, it would seem the very pair of trousers which the conservancy overseer had been wearing, was set ablaze mysteriously. With the help of the inmates of the house, the flame was extinguished but hardly had this been done than the inspector felt a stinging slap at the back of his head!

Strange as they seem, these incidents are reported to have actually taken place and unless a solution is arrived at (and quickly), there is no knowing the amount of terror which the uncanny proceedings will spread among the less stout-hearted people in the locality.

DARWIN THEORY CHALLENGED

Professor's Strong Attack

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 10.

The smouldering fires of the Darwinian controversy have burst into flames at the British Association meeting here, writes a correspondent.

This is the result of an outspoken attack on the theory of natural selection by Prof. Macbride, of the Imperial College of Science, South Kensington.

Prof. Macbride said: "The doctrine of natural selection as the cause of evolution is to my mind a complete fraud. It is worse than a fallacy, it is a truism. In one sense it must be true because it is obvious."

"It is apparent to an elementary school child that the next generation must have arisen from a former one, so that the survival of the fittest simply means that the survivor survives. It means nothing more than that."

"The doctrine of natural selection means evolution by chance. All the attacks of Darwin's opponents on this interpretation were justified. They were just as true 50 years ago as they are now."

EVIDENCE OF SURVIVAL
I later discussed the controversy with Sir Arthur Keith, who said the real trouble was the misunderstanding of what Darwin meant by "natural selection."

"I study Darwinism in terms of the human race," said Sir Arthur. "The rise and fall of nations and races are evidence of the survival of the fittest. The races which are stronger survive. The races which are weak go under."

Sir Arthur explained that changes occurred in the physical characteristics of the individual, but only the dominant characteristics survived. If the changes were such as to make the species more adaptable to surroundings then the species survived. Otherwise they became extinct.

Prof. E. D. Poulton caused some amusement by a vigorous criticism of Prof. Macbride. "We must feel a certain admiration for the pelican in the wilderness," he said. "We admire its courage standing there telling us things which very few other people believe. We accord the pelican every admiration, but we do not follow it in its opinions."

The Edinburgh Concerts

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Sept. 10.

The Edinburgh Concert Society, Ltd., which promotes the Scottish orchestra concerts in Edinburgh, has issued its prospectus for the forthcoming season. As in Glasgow the season is extended by a fortnight, and, for the same subscriptions as last year, two extra concerts are to be given.

Edinburgh supporters of the Scottish Orchestra are to hear most, but not all, of the soloists who have been engaged by the Glasgow Choral and Orchestra Union. Similarly they are to hear a liberal selection of the novelties or revivals of orchestral works included in the Glasgow season.

The pianists engaged are Orloff, Moiseiwitch, Gieseking, and Philip Holsted; the violinists are Heifetz and Thibaud; Feuermann, the cellist, also appears in Edinburgh, and Kipnis and Ria Ginter are the vocalists.

In addition, John Barbirolli's Concerto for oboe and strings, with Miss Evelyn Rothwell as soloist, and Mozart's Concertante for violin, viola, and orchestra, with David McCallum, the leader, and Miss Eileen Granger as soloists, are to be heard in Edinburgh.

Mr. Barbirolli is to conduct all 14 concerts, and the Edinburgh Royal Choral Union are to perform under Dr. Greenhouse Alt at the twelfth concert in Ethel Smyth's "Hey Nonny No" and Vaughan Williams' "Toward the Unknown Regions."

NOVEL EXHIBITION IN CAPITAL

Nanking, For the first time in the annals of Chinese judicial history, handwork done by the convicts in 37 model prisons in the chief provinces of China are now on display in an exhibition at the local Y.M.C.A. held under the auspices of the Ministry of Justice.

The holding of the unique exhibit, Sept. 19-22, according to a responsible official of the Ministry of Justice, is closely related with the National Judicial Conference, now in session in Nanking. It is aimed, he said, at showing the prisoners' handwork from various new prisons in China to the participating judicial experts who, by comparing the products exhibited, will pass their judgement of the management of various prisons and make suggestions for their improvement in the future.

MANY ARTICLES
A brief visit to the exhibition shows that many kinds of handicraft articles, varying from carpets, towels, piece goods, embroideries, wooden and bamboo furnishings, to toys lacquer wares, cushion cases and curtains are on view.

Investigations reveal that some of the exhibits came from as far as the prisons in Yunnan, Kwelchow, Kwangtung, Kwangsi in the south, and Suiyuan, Chahar and Hopei in the north. The municipal jails of Harbin are also represented.

Outstanding among the products showed are the exquisitely-woven carpets which, aside from being the largest in number, are of very rare quality. They are rendered the more attractive by the graceful design of patterns and their low prices. Most of them represent products from model prisons in Chahar, Hopei, Suiyuan and Harbin.

BAMBOO "CURTAINS"
Next to the carpets in point of attractiveness are the curtains made of bamboo stripes, on the surfaces of which are painted beautiful flower patterns. They are sent from the "big houses" in Shensi and Kansu.

PROMINENT VISITORS TO TAIYUAN

Taiyuan, Sept. 19.

Prominent members of the Institute of Pacific Relations visited Taiyuan recently in the persons of Mr. Bruno Lasker of Yonkers, New York, who has been doing some investigating work in South China and who will also work a month or more in Japan before returning to the States; Dr. K. A. Wittfogel, specialist in economics who is spending several months in China, and Mr. Owyn Lattimore, editor of "Pacific Affairs" and author of several books on Mongolia and Manchuria. While here they saw, coal, mining conditions, visited several factories of the North-western Industrial Co. and other places of interest and conferred with prominent citizens learning of conditions generally in Shansi, particularly the economic situation and plans for possible improvement. Mr. Lasker gave a very enlightening and informative talk to the Y.M.C.A. staff which was highly appreciated.

Mr. Lasker returned to Peiping, while Messrs. Lattimore and Wittfogel, accompanied by Mr. Woodbridge Bingham, son of ex-Senator Bingham of Connecticut, started south through the province visiting the Shansi-Oberlin Memorial Schools, irrigation projects at Tai-ku and other places of interest en route to Shan. They travelled over the new Shansi railway part of the way. It is being pushed rapidly to completion at the southern end so as to connect with the Lunghai at Tungkuang. After several days in Shan and vicinity they will return to Peiping.

Handwork, consisting of child clothes, embroideries and knittings, from the Second Branch Prison in Shanghai, is also on display, the prison being the only jail for women in China.

Other products such as lacquer ware from Fukien, mats from Chekiang, embroideries from Hunan and silk cloth from Shantung command equal attention from the visitors.

The Proven STOMACH REMEDY for Bad Cases

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of "Bisurated" Magnesia to be the quickest-acting and most effective known to medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of "Bisurated" Magnesia in a little water produced complete relief in cases where numerous other remedies had failed entirely.

Its Action Explained—
Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the torturing stomach it begins to sweeten the sour, fermenting undigested food. The contents of the stomach become so bland and soothing as to soothe the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and completely disappears. By following up the treatment after each meal, your stomach strength will soon become so invigorated and strong again, that you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal without fear of wind and pain.

A NOTED
ENGLISH DOCTOR
SAYS:

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

H.C. — M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:

"Bisurated" Magnesia gives excellent results and is the ideal remedy for stomach pains and acidity. It is particularly recommended for Dyspepsia, Gastritis, Stomach Pains, Flatulence, and even Stomach Ulcers."

SEEK YE FIRST THE KINGDOM OF GOD

Sermon at the Cathedral

At St. John's Cathedral yesterday morning, the Rev. H. W. Baines delivered the following sermon to a large congregation:—
When men see religion being used to further private ends they are disgusted. I met a man recently who had nearly been estranged from Christ because he had read a book describing the way in which during the Inquisition a man said he would be ashamed of religion to minister to their private hatreds. More recently in connection with the Business Man's Service on October 13th, a man said he would be ashamed to attend such a service if it meant asking God to put the balance on the right side in his accounts when he had neglected Him in prosperous days. Hypocrisy does not go down with men of the present time. Nor did it please Jesus. He summed up the attitude just described in the words, "No man can serve two masters for either he will hate the one and love the other or else he will hold to the one and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and Mammon."

GOD'S POSITION

People know that to be true when they are honest. You know that God's position in your loyalty must either be first or nowhere. If he is second or third or fourth then you have become a polytheist as your dim ancestors were when they matched god against god and laid odds on the result. What I mean is that only that person is truly religious according to the mind of Christ in whose life there runs a continuous course through the points of keenest desire and highest ambition and never turned aside by them—a course directed towards the kingdom of God and His Holy will. It is only when the deepest attraction and affection of friend for friend the first fruits of the relationship are given to God that you are being sincere in your protestation that God is love, as it is only when the object of all your professional, technical or occupational activity is directed by obedience to God's will and towards the ministry of His kingdom that you are sincere in your prayer "Thy will be done."

If it is to any saying as distinct from him who said it that men have returned each time, the Christian Church has been revived out of wretched mediocrity to something characteristically of Christ. It is to these uncompromising words, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness." The lesson of the failure to do so and of the consequences of deposing God are written large across the pages of history, and none has failed more obstinately than Christ's own Church.

"SEEK YE FIRST"

As a matter of fact it is the words, "No man can serve two masters" which are more uncompromising but they are qualified by these words, "Seek ye first." Jesus new as well as any of us that motives are mixed and that we do in fact serve many masters like the demoniac whose name was legion, but what I think He meant was that you cannot in fact have two objects for your supreme and all absorbing loyalty: there is not room for two as all dictators know well. But he recognises that we are moved by differing motives and inevitably so, and thus these words of His, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God" are compounded of common sense as well as of stirring prophesy. What matters is what motive you put on top. What matters is that you should enthusiastically and committedly seek and that you should seek first for His kingdom and righteousness. He knows that men cannot live without loves and ambition and what He says to them is "Follow me in seeking first God's kingdom and His righteousness and you will know with me then what it means to enjoy love and honest labour."

GO FURTHER BACK

I have said that we Christians have obstinately failed to set God where He should be. We are like those who think that anything to do with the British Empire must be right; we think that anything to do with the Church must be Christian, and in thinking so we forget that it is only too easy to put religion in the place of God and worship it. Why have you come here this morning. Is it first to worship God and hallow His name?

But we must go further back yet. The seat of all selfishness and the origin of idolatry is in our own prayers. It is not true that whenever we pray we worship God, that whenever we kneel down we are bound to benefit although God in His mercy is always more ready to hear than we to pray and to give more than we desire or deserve. Our prayers are the most fertile seed beds for selfishness because when we ask for ourselves something the possession of which will deprive somebody else of what they need, we persuade ourselves that we are doing right and in that we are blaspheming. That was what the man saw who did not wish to pray for the readjustment of his balance. When Jesus said "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness." He was only saying what He evidently practised in His own life and carried out in His own prayer; for that begins, and will remember, with the hope and petition that in whatever or whom ever we are considering at the time the name of God may be hallowed. His kingdom may come and His will be done. When we pray, when we come into God's garden it is in order to meet Him and not to get all the fattest strawberries.

FRUSTRATION THE END?

To some this will bring the fear that we shall not get any strawberries or flowers at all. They will wonder whether the end of this seeking first is not frustration and emptiness. Strawberries and flowers are good and lovely. Why should we be thwarted? The answer lies in Jesus' own words when he concludes this passage with "and all these things shall be added unto you. He did not come to crush things but to claim them: because we have sought first of all for our Father and His will and His righteousness we shall not only receive the great gifts of life from His hands but shall receive them with His benediction. It cannot be so strongly or too often insisted that the discipline and single-mindedness of Christ in seeking first the kingdom of God and His righteousness is the supreme road to the fulfilment of life. I have said before, but let me say it again, that all history endorses the lesson that for the man who humbly takes up his cross and tries to follow his Master and for him alone life in all its departments and various facets, aesthetic, technical and emotional, is purified and enriched. That man is able to experiment freely and confidently at the circumstance of life who has won to truth at the centre. We say grace before meals, we dedicate a new home, we ask the blessing of God upon a marriage to His greater glory not in order to abstract our meat, or our home, or ourselves, from life as it must be lived, but in the belief that as in these most common and intimate concerns all things will be added unto us. We have not crept into God's garden to steal His flowers but we have gone to God Himself and He takes us and gives us the best flowers and the fruit.

ONE MORE THING

There is one more thing to say. In all things let God be our God: let all things let us seek His kingdom and specially in the powerhouse of our lives which is our prayers. The kingdom of God is our ambition. But it is not a stationary goal. It belongs to the here and now and yet it is always beckoning to us. If we seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness it will mean that there is not a single activity or occupation in our lives, that there is not one friendship nor one relationship in which we can stand still and say "I have achieved. Is not this the great house that I have built?" There is here and now in every activity and in every relationship, that which is good and belongs to the kingdom but tomorrow we shall be shown that which is better.

AROUND THE COURTS

HEAVY FINE FOR SEAMAN

William Brody, (32) fireman on board the President Coolidge who was arrested on Friday for the possession of firearms and ammunition without a licence, was on Saturday fined $200 or in default 3 months' hard labour, by Mr. Thomson at Kowloon Magistracy. Sub Inspector L. Whant stated that on information received, he went to David's Cafe in Hankow Road and 12 rounds of .38 ammunition were found in defendants possession. Defendant was taken to the Water Police Station and when re-searched a .38 Smith and Wesson short revolver was found against his groin inside his trousers.

Defendant pleaded that he carried the revolver for self-defence, as many people have already been killed in waterfront disputes. The revolver and ammunition were ordered to be confiscated.

GUNNER BOUND OVER

The case against Clive Grandage, a 22 year old gunner of the 9th Battery, Royal Artillery, stationed at Lyemum Barracks who was charged with failing to pay the legal carriage fare on the ferry from Hong Kong to Yau-mat, with driving private car No. 1321 without a licence, with driving the car without the owner's permission, with failing to keep to the left of the road when rounding the corner at Peking Road and Nathan Road, and with failing to keep to the left side of the road in Salisbury Road near the Star Ferry, came to an end on Saturday when the defendant was bound over in a personal bond of $75 to come up for judgment at any time by Mr. W. M. Thomson at the Kowloon Magistracy.

It will be recalled that when the defendant was earlier charged before the same Court he made rambling statements which drew forth laughter from both the Court and the spectators.

In coming to this decision the magisterial report which said that the influence of alcohol might have caused a slight aberration of the defendant's mind, rendering him incapable of differentiating between right and wrong, he would not have taken such a lenient view of the case.

The Magistrate pointed out to the defendant that as a possible result of his driving a car on the right side of the road, he might

TO PAY DAMAGES

Defendant was also ordered to pay $22 to the owner of the car as damages, and 65 cents to the ferry company for the fare which was not paid when he crossed the ferry.

In giving evidence the ticket collector of the ferry company stated that defendant did not stop at the entrance of the way leading on board the vehicle ferry, but drove on to the ferry. When asked for the fare the defendant offered witness five cents and two cigarettes, stating "I have no money."

"TILL SEE YOU AGAIN"

Witness had to come ashore as the ferry was about to leave. Witness informed the European Inspector and telephoned the ticket collector on the Yau-mat Wharf to collect the fare from the defendant.

Ip Wai-chuen, ticket collector on the Kowloon side, stated that he approached defendant when the ferry berthed, but defendant said that the fare had already been paid on the Hong Kong side, and drove the car away saying: "Till see you again."

Defendant pleaded guilty to the last three charges and was convicted on the first two.

NEW HOSTEL FOR ST.
JOHN'S HALL

"Housewarming" Party Held

A housewarming party was held at the St. John's Hall, The University, on Saturday night in celebration of the opening of the new wing of the hostel. Over 200 people were present and all had an enjoyable time. Mr. Lee Ching-ni, the chairman of the Hostel, in his opening speech said that the extension had been a long felt want.

By this extension the number of rooms will be brought up to 61. He expressed gratitude at the increase of unity of spirit in the student body and voiced the hope that this unity would be able to allow the students to attain greater success in the fields of sports and studies. The chairman closed by thanking all those who had helped for their kind assistance.

In his speech the Warden, the Reverend G. K. Carpenter, said:—

"To-night we are celebrating an important milestone in the history of this Hostel. It is an occasion when we, naturally, want to look backwards and trace, however briefly, the way along which we have come since our foundation 23 years ago. St. John's Hall men can feel I think, a pardonable gratification in remembering that they are members of the oldest of the University Hostels. This was the only one ready for occupation when the University formally opened in September 1912.

At that time St. John's Hall consisted of one block, namely, that portion of the present building that runs parallel to King's Road, together with what was known as the old Fairlea building, the original premises of the Fairlea Girls School, and which occupied approximately the site of this Common Room.

THIRTY-THREE STUDENTS

"In the first year the Hall had 33 students. The Rev. W. H. Hewitt was the first Warden, and he was assisted by Mr. H. W. Turnbull, who lived in the old Fairlea building.

"Two years later the second step was taken, and all was extended parallel to Poplum Road, connecting the original portion with the Fairlea building.

"In 1915 Mr. Hewitt left the hostel to become principal of St. Stephen's College, and his place was taken by the Rev. C. B. Shann. The senior residents have a warm place in their affections for Mr. and Mrs. Shann, and the hostel owes very much to Mr. Shann for his wise and devoted wardenship of over 16 years.

BUILDING DEMOLISHED

"An earthquake in 1918, together with the effects of age, combined to make the Fairlea building unsafe for use, and it was pulled down in 1926. Before this, however, Stephen's House, better known to many of you as the 'Annexe', was given to the Hostel by the Church Missionary Society or used as a students' residence and ended in the spring of 1922. Many of you here look back with great pleasure to years spent beneath its roof, even though the rain came through not infrequently, and were a happy family under the care of the Rev. N. V. Halwar. The Annexe was famous for being a particularly lucky room, and the fortunate tenant of this room was said to be always successful in 'passing' his final Medical examinations.

SIR WILLIAM'S HELP

"About thirty years ago it was decided to a part of this property, and finally the site on which the Annexe stands was purchased by the Hong Kong Government, with a view to its development as a Public Health Centre. I should like to take this opportunity of acknowledging with much gratitude the important help given by Sir William Hornell in furthering this transaction.

"The Church Missionary Society generously granted St. John's Hall part of the proceeds of the sale of the site for the purpose of providing accommodation in place of that lost, the abandonment of the Annexe, and to-night you have the result before you.

THAT EXPRESSED

"I wish to express our warm thanks to old St. John's men, Mr. Chau Nin, for his many services in signing and supervising this extension, and to Messrs. Sang Tai & Co., our contractors, for their loyal interest in the work. In addition to the new Common Room, 12 new students' rooms are provided upstairs, with accommodation for an Assistant Warden, the old Common Room has been made into a Library and students' rooms. The Hall now receive a maximum of 61 students. At the same time the Warden's quarters have been enlarged, and servants' rooms added to them.

"When the hostel was founded, it was planned to build a chapel on the north side, over Pokfulam Road. Twenty-three years ago there were no buses or lorries climbing noisily on bottom gear up the hill. We hope we have found a quieter spot, by transforming what was the Roll-call Room into a chapel. Here may not only our own residents, but other members of the University, find a place helpful to worship and meditation, a visible symbol of the unseen and eternal.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORT
"In athletics St. John's Hall took a leading place in the earlier years, particularly in the matter of tennis. More recently the Hall has held the inter-hostel basketball championship since 1931, and has been runner-up for the past three years for the hostel championship in University athletic sports. In spite of the enlargement of the building, we still have room for a tennis court and basketball ground, though one of the fine old trees has had to be sacrificed to make room for the latter.

"This is the oldest of the University hostels, and it is also the nearest to sea-level. I am happy to say we do not seem on that account to attract only those people who wish to avoid the exertion of climbing to the higher hostels up the hill. There is generally great activity, of one sort or another, taking place, whether in study, common room or dining room.

GOOD COMPANIONSHIP

"We are fortunate in the spirit of good companionship which seems a marked feature of St. John's Hall, and it is surely one of the advantages of hostel and university life that it teaches students of widely varying types and backgrounds how to live together, as we learn to share with one another, to respect each other's point of view, to believe in each other's sincerity. May this spirit of friendship and harmony, which we pray may prevail amongst the nations, ever be found here in St. John's Hall."

STUDENTS CONGRATULATED

The Vice-Chancellor, Sir William Hornell, replied on behalf of the guests. He congratulated the students on their new wing and wished them every success. Among those who were seen at the function were:—Sir William Hornell, Professor and Mrs. W. Field, Mr. G. V. Boxer, Father MacDonald, Mr. A. B. Reynolds, Mr. T. J. Price, the Hon. Secretary of the University Union, the Chairman and Hon. Secretary of Eliot Hall, the Chairman of May Hall, the Chairman and the Hon. Secretary of Morrison Hall, Mr. A. B. ## GREEK MONARCHY

Athens, Sept. 28. The movement in favour of the restoration of the monarchy without the holding of a plebiscite is gaining ground, owing to the intense propaganda carried on by the monarchists, but it is stated on good authority that the Premier, M. Tsaldaris, is adhering to his standpoint that the plebiscite voted by the nation as originally promised to the people, should be carried out according to schedule on October 7.

DEATHS

BOWES-SMITH.—At the War Memorial Hospital, on Sunday, September 29, 1935, Aubrey Maurice Bowes-Smith, 42 years, after a short illness. Funeral will pass the Monument at 5.30 p.m. to-day.

BUTRICK.—On September 23, 1935, at the Country Hospital, Shanghai, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Butrick, a son.

DABELSTEIN.—On September 24, 1935, at his residence, Hung-jao Road, Shanghai, suddenly, Kenneth Eric John Ashworth, aged 40 years.

MR. A. M. BOWES-SMITH
PASSES AWAYWidespread Grief In The Colony

The Colony to-day mourns in widespread grief the death of Aubrey M. Bowes-Smith; with profound sympathy for Mrs. Bowes-Smith, and her three children, and for Mr. Bowes-Smith's parents in England.

Mr. Bowes-Smith arrived here in 1920, and was soon known to a large circle of friends and admirers, as a young man of extraordinary promise. After acting as Hong Kong Manager of David Sassoon's—in which capacity he was a member of the Board of Directors of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank—he served for two years with Sassoon's in Shanghai; until recalled to Hong Kong in 1925, to take over the seat of Mr. J. E. Joseph as an Exchange and Bullion Broker, in partnership with Mr. S. S. Perry.

His business made exacting demands on his time and energy, but never prevented him from fulfilling his sense of the duties of citizenship. Countless enterprises were eagerly initiated and systematically maintained by him, for the benefit of the community and the help of individuals. We will go on wanting his force in good works, no less than his charm in daily greetings.

WAR SERVICE

He had served four years on the Western Front during the World War with the London Rifle Brigade, and for bravery in battle was awarded the Military Medal in August 1917, with the additional award of a bar to the Medal, in November 1918. He was one of the few infantrymen who, having faced the gas attacks of the Second Battle of Ypres, survived the retreat of March 1918, and continued to fight through the final advance. With such experience of the calamities and comradeship of battlefields, he devoted himself in Hong Kong to the Ex-Active Servicemen's Association, and during his first residence in Hong Kong recorded his military experiences in "Four Years on The Western Front," a book which earned the very highest praise in England from both military experts and literary critics.

MUSICAL GENIUS

Although Mr. Bowes-Smith had many other literary enthusiasms, especially as a witty writer of light verse and a vigorous lecturer, his chief, creative interest was music. As a pianist his highly cultivated talent amounted to genius. Hundreds of people who have lived in Hong Kong or spent only a few hours here will cherish forever the delight with which they listened to his inspired renderings of Chopin and other master composers.

menace it would appear very much like Blackmail. And, in this hard world when spoliation begins, it ends only when the process is complete, when not a feather remains on the bird.

Have these gentlemen any clear conception of how this policy is to be applied? Under the "mandate" system, our Colonial territories might either be handed over to other Mandatory Powers or to a League administration. If the first course were taken, how could we be sure that the new Mandatory Powers would not jump the claims and take possession of the mandated territories with which they were entrusted? But if the second course were followed how could it be expected to satisfy the aggressive Nationalism, which supports these present demands? Would Italy, would Germany, be content to share in an international holding of the territories they desire for their own expansion? And where would the League of Nations find the means to protect these territories against the satisfaction of such ambitions? No, these proposals are not alone unworthy, they are impracticable. And as we have shown, they are the logical consequence of disarmament. For years the nation has been warned of the inevitable consequences of that policy. It would lead first to impotence and then to spoliation. The pusillanimous proposals to which reference has already been made show that we are already upon the edge of these consequences. And there is only one way to prevent them. The Navy must be restored to its old adequacy of strength. Only so can Great Britain hope to avoid both the failure of her policy and the loss of her Empire.

In the cultivation of musical taste, he was supported by the equal musical talent and enthusiasm of his wife. Their house was known throughout the East, for its ready welcome to all who were interested in instrumental or vocal music, whether world-famous professionals, or humble amateurs. Their services to the Colony in this respect were highly estimated creating for Mr. Bowes-Smith a position of responsible leadership in the musical affairs of the Colony. In this position he made sure that any visitor with musical talent was welcomed, encouraged and supported.

Towards this end he promoted and energised the Hong Kong Musical Society; and worked hard for musical talent as the special adviser on the Hong Kong Broadcasting Committee.

ETERNALLY CHEERFUL

In the odd moments of a strenuous day, as well as through busy hours by evening and on holiday, he gave himself heartily to friendship and service. Among Chinese, Portuguese, and every nationality he was active, inspiring, generous and eternally cheerful. His compatriots were proud of him. His friends will find him forever in their hearts. His light burned brilliantly, intensely and benevolently.

The funeral takes the monument at 5.30 p.m. to-day.

Men's Section

Shanghai, Sept. 29. Shanghai scored rather singles and one more double victory in the men's section today to win the tennis interport that section.

In the ladies' section Mrs. Wilson (Hong Kong) beat Mrs. Molr 6-0, 2-6, 8-1. Mrs. Wilson was brilliant in her playments and outstanding at net play. She scored numerous wins with her backhand to the favourers of the court.

THE SINGLES

Khoos Hool-hye beat Paul Wal-pui 6-1, 6-4, 12-10. In played excellently, Khoos's superior court craft deciding the fate in the final set after a dinging struggle with the lead alternating until ten games all was called. Khoos's win gave Shanghai victory in the men's section as they had won a singles and doubles encounter on Saturday.

DOUBLES MATCH

Carson and Duff (Shanghai) beat Hung and Ho Ka-lau 6-3, 1-6, 7-9, 6-2. The final set played at dusk which greatly handicapped the visitors, who were surprised by extending what was considered Shanghai's leading doubles combination.

The local pair led in the fourth set and were up point, but the Colony players fled and won the game. Each side won alternately to 7-7. Ho Ka-lau was the best of the four players, but he was not supported by Hung who was unsteady throughout. Carson and Duff are both Reuter.

If Gossip We Must

(BY "ONLOOKER").

At Government House

How we all enjoyed ourselves at a certain large American tiffin party last week! There is no doubt that our American cousins have a marvelous faculty for creating a perfect "Home" atmosphere wherever they are—be it Park Avenue or the Far East. Apparently, unlike us, they simply have to have things beautifully done, and in spite of the ravages of local fog and tempests, they insist on lovely houses and gardens with all their own beautiful possessions spread about them.

Another great secret of their success as hostesses is their cooking ability—they really know how to create ambrosial dishes, and instill their art into the willing heads of their Chinese menials. If I were engaging a new cook I think I should insist on his having had experience in an American household.

After a delightful private dinner party at which conversation flowed so fast that we barely had time to appreciate the witicism of one fellow guest before we became absorbed in the thrilling travel experiences of another, we wandered down from the mountain fastness to the "Graps" which was particularly gay and cheerful. When the "Revelers" began to play "Lovelies" seemed to spring up like mushrooms from every corner. Irene Dunford looked exquisite as always in black with feathers which suggested ravens wings. She was in a party which included the popular Peter Strickland, and Eric Nelson. It was nice to see Hermione Beauclerk, back again from Wei-hai-wei looking very well—she was wearing a most becoming pink dress of unusual design.

SHANGHAI VISITORS
Our newly engaged couple Eppie Strahan and her nice looking fiancé were having a little party on their own, and she was looking appropriately radiant in a lovely deep blue dress.

Amongst visitors from Shanghai we are delighted to have Mrs. Robbie Gordon with us again. Betty Cohen, also from Shanghai, looked awfully smart in black too, and it was gratifying to see the much travelled and tremendously interesting Miss Knight of journalistic fame obviously enjoying the night life of Hong Kong. "The James Priors" were entertained.

Shanghai secured a 3-0 lead over Hong Kong in the Interport Tennis series which commenced on Saturday, the Northerners taking one of the men's doubles, a ladies' doubles and a singles match. ## HATS GALORE

At a party given by Peter Strickland and friend the other day I noticed a variety of head-gear. Mary Smith looked very striking in her brown one, worn with a most becoming dress of the same colour. Betty Gerrard looked delicious in brown and that new egg shell blue (or, is it green?) and she sported a gay feather in her hat. Heather was very sparkling as usual. Mrs. McAvoy was radiating her usual good cheer from beneath a intriguing little navy blue hat. Miss Simmons looked wonderful in black. Space does not permit, or I would give a complete list of the feminine guests at this party—nearly all the well-knowns of the younger brigade were there—but a great many of the men-folk were new to me. Mr. Smith Wright of Shanghai A.D.C. fame was full of interesting conversation, and I gathered that we shall be hearing some news about a Hong Kong A.D.C. production ere long. On by the way, the literary talent of our colony is breaking out again, in the form of a cocktail book which is to be published locally. It is written by two popular people who have delighted local readers by their contributions to a certain weekly for some time past. And I know the kind of ambrosial cocktails they can produce at their own parties. So we shall expect great things!

THE EMPORIUM
Dragging ourselves away with some reluctance from this delightful cocktail party, we wended our way to the China Emporium to hear the famous band which every body talks so much about. It was an interesting study in contrasts, suddenly finding oneself in a completely Chinese atmosphere of youth and beauty, after the very English party on the Peak. How exquisite these Chinese ladies are; and how beautifully they dance! After we had absorbed our fill of this interesting haunt we had a look in at the "Graps." As usual everything was lovely there, and several of the cocktail party had arrived for a pleasant finish to a good evening. More and more old friends are returning from their holidays in the North. Mrs. Dovey was looking very well after her travels, and seemed to be involved in a whirl of celebrations in honour of her return. Mrs. Wise and her husband were there, and a lot of other Naval people in spite of the Ethiopian preoccupation, which seems to account for rather rapid disappearances now-a-days.

There is good news for the feminine population of the colony. Mrs. Moore, the beauty expert, has returned to the fold and is to be found in the Gloucester this time. Doubtless the "Moore Club" will be going as strong as ever when the news goes round.

ABYSSINIA WAR FEARS INCREASE

General Mobilisation Now Imminent

NEGUS APPEALS TO LEAGUE

War drums are beating in Abyssinia and it seems the blow will fall soon. It is reported that the Italian Attaché at the capital there had hinted that there will be war in three weeks, but the Ethiopians believe that there will be an outbreak before October 10. The closing of the Italian consulate at Harar is an ominous sign.

Another telegraphic appeal has been sent by Ethiopia to the League pointing out that general mobilisation cannot be delayed any longer in view of the continual reinforcement of the Italian armies and asking for immediate measures as a precaution against aggression. The Emperor is being pressed by his subjects to sign a general mobilisation decree.

Meanwhile the Committee of Thirteen will meet on Monday to consider the question of sending League observers. The general impression caused by the Italian communique is unfavourable since it shows that Italy is not disposed to deal with the League.

COMMUNIQUE ISSUED BY ITALY

Ready To Negotiate With Britain

Rome, Sept. 28. Italy has no intention of leaving the League until the day on which the League assumes full responsibility for measures which strike at Italy, states a communique issued at the end of the Cabinet meeting.

It continues that, following the communication of the cordial message from Sir Samuel Hoare, the Council of Ministers again declares that the policy of Italy has no immediate or remote aims which may injure the interests of Britain.

The Italian Government communicates to the British Government that it is ready to negotiate a subsequent agreement which may harmonise the legitimate interests of Britain in Central Africa. The Fascist Government declares most solemnly that it will avoid any action which may extend the Italo-Ethiopian conflict into a wider field.

ETHIOPIA SUSPECTED

The Italian Government cannot take seriously the announcement of the Emperor of Ethiopia, that he has ordered the withdrawal of his troops 30 kilometres from the frontiers. No Government worthy of the name can make such a declaration seriously. It is an expedient with a strategic and unpalatable objective. It aims at masking the preparations in the interior and the fortifying of Ethiopian troops in a stronger position.

"In view of the situation, the departure of our divisions has proceeded in the past few days at a noticeably accelerated pace."

The Italian Government will not take the initiative on the terrain of a League of Nations in which its rights have been disregarded from the outset.

BASED ON FALSE NOTION

Until further information is available the Rome communique cannot be regarded as making the immediate situation any easier, states the Press Association.

The communique seems to be founded on a false notion propagated in Italy that the Abyssinian crisis is in reality a dispute between British and Italian interests in East Africa whereas the British Ministers have repeatedly declared that the British had no selfish interest in Abyssinia and were concerned with the dispute solely as a League member.

It is at present not known whether Italy contemplates negotiations making military action unnecessary or whether she aims at negotiating an agreement with Britain on British interests in East Africa after she had made herself master of Abyssinia, but neither suggestion appears to be of much value in the present situation. Latter would not avoid a war in Abyssinia and the former would imply a settlement outside the League to which there is no likelihood of the British Government consenting.

GENEVA OPINIONS

Geneva, Sept. 29. The statement in the Italian communique that Italy will not take any step in the terrain where her right is studiously overlooked, is taken to mean that Italy is prepared to negotiate outside the League and confirms indeed the report that certain steps are afoot where the possibility of an understanding might be reached.

MYSTERY IN A VISIT

Von Ribbentrop At Brussels

Berlin, Sept. 29.

Interest is aroused by a mysterious visit paid by Herr von Ribbentrop to Brussels yesterday. It was stated in official circles that the visit was purely private, but a rumour is widespread here that Germany has offered a non-aggression pact to Belgium and it is revealed that the German diplomat saw Premier van Zeeland during his brief visit.

The visit to Brussels was still a strict secret here until he was already reported to be on the way back. After reports of his appearance there reached Berlin from London and Paris, it was officially published here.

It is not expected that the visit was more than exploratory owing to its short duration of twelve hours.

Received a telegram from the Negus in regard to mobilisation which he is communicating to all members of the Council which will probably meet to-morrow.

League circles point out that this development accentuates the need for the despatch of League observers to Ethiopia to determine responsibility for any acts of aggression.

WAR CLOSE AT HAND

Addis Ababa, Sept. 29. "Mussolini had better be prepared for a war lasting several years," declared a Government spokesman.

The Italian Military Attaché is reported to have hinted at war within three weeks, but many Ethiopians believe that war will break out before October 10.

The Italian Legation has instructed Signor Giardini, Italian Consul at Harar, to close down the Consulate immediately and proceed to Djibouti.

COMMITTEE ADJOURNS

Geneva, Sept. 28. The Committee of Thirteen met at 10 a.m. to-day to appoint a sub-committee to draft a report. The question of the despatch of observers to Ethiopia is being considered on Monday.

In this connection a decision on the matter can only be taken by the Council unanimously. Therefore Italy's adverse vote will be decisive.

Meanwhile the Committee has yet to say whether the despatch of observers is practical politics.

The Committee adjourned to October 3 after instructing the Secretariat to prepare a report on the origin and circumstances of the Abyssinian dispute. Mr. Anthony Eden, in the course of the discussions, remarked that they would go back as far as the Flood if necessary to get the details of the earliest origin of the dispute.

(Early Abyssinia cables appear on pages 2 and 3)

POSSIBLE CLOSING OF SUEZ CANAL

Paris, Sept. 28. The Suez Canal Company formally denies that the question of the possible closing of the Suez Canal appears on the agenda of the usual monthly meeting of directors on October 7.

This has followed the recent denial of another rumour, to the effect that the company was seeking legal advice in that connection. It is pointed out that such advice is unnecessary, since by the Convention of 1888 it is quite clear that the Canal will always remain open, in peace or war.

LEAGUE SEAT FOR CHINA

Geneva, Sept. 28. The special committee dealing with the composition of the committee of the Council to deal with the Chinese demand for a seat, elected Signor Rocco (Italy) President and M. Bourquin (Belgium) Vice-President.

It is decided to request the Governments to submit their observations and proposals by November 11, when the Committee meets again.

ROYALTY RETURN FROM SCOTLAND

London, Sept. 28. Their Majesties the King and Queen arrived in London early this morning, having returned from Scotland in the Royal train which left Ballater last evening. Their Majesties proceeded at once to Buckingham Palace.

HONG KONG AND WORLD AIR SERVICE

Imperial Airways Plans For Link-up

Imperial Airways plans to make before the end of this year a series of experimental flights between Penang and Hong Kong foreshadow a vital extension of the Empire air route network which will eventually link the England-Australia airway with China and Japan. Negotiations to that end have proceeded for many months, and the stage is reached where organization of the first flights by machines carrying mails and, possibly, passengers is engaging the attention of the airway staff.

These first flights will be made by four-engined land-planes of the Imperial Airways fleet, though a regular service between the Malay Peninsula and more upon marine aircraft, which are admirably suited for the job. Royal Air Force flying boats have already flown several times between Singapore and Hong Kong, going either by way of Borneo and the Philippines or along the coast of French Indo-China, and much information about marine aircraft operation in the area is already available. Further, employment of flying boats over the route would suit the trend of Imperial Airways policy which is to make more and more use of flying boats over all of the company's routes.

TRAINING PILOTS Within the past few days one of the Short Calcutta three-engined boats which are held in reserve in the Mediterranean has arrived back in England, where it will be used for the training of Imperial Airways pilots in the handling and navigation of marine aircraft to fit them to meet the introduction of boats on many of the company's services. Underlying the new policy is the conviction, based on experience of working the England-Australia and England-South Africa lines, that uniformity of aircraft used all along the way is essential.

One of the chief problems to be solved in an undertaking which operates vehicles across the world is the provision of adequate facilities for maintenance and repair. Unless big and costly stores of spare parts and an elaborate workshop organization are established at various points along the route, all repairs and major overhauls must be done in Great Britain. This leads to the conclusion that the best arrangement, especially with big aircraft of the kind that will be needed to carry the loads when all first-class Empire mail goes by air, is to operate the same type of aeroplane over the whole of the route. Probably, the entire journey would be made in one and the same machine, avoiding the changes from one machine to another that are now made, and approximating the airway still more closely to a shipping service.

ITALY TAKING NO CHANCES

Precautions In Case Of Sanctions

Paris, Sept. 29. The Italians are sceptical of sanctions ever being imposed, but they are not taking any chances. A Rome message says that import duties have been suspended on indispensable chemicals like tungsten, cobalt, carbon and blast-muff, also timber required to make rifle butts.

Iron is virtually banned in building work in order to economise supplies. Petrol consumption has been reduced by an increase in price.

The Ministry of Agriculture is holding two million quintals of wheat for release if prices threaten to rise.

If economic sanctions are applied, Italy would cultivate the sources of non-members of the League. She has already given Brazil a big meat contract at the expense of Argentina because the former is not a member of the League. Japan and Germany are also contemplated as potential sources of supplies.

POLAR BEAR STRIDING THE DECKS

Soviet Ship Traverses Arctic Circle

London, Sept. 29. With an untethered polar bear striding its decks and the whole crew waving, at the rally, the Soviet steamer Stalingrad has arrived in London. This is the first commercial steamer to traverse the Arctic circle from Vladivostok to London.

Captain Melekhov said that the journey was 8,000 miles and he would be nervous about crossing it on the northern navigation route, but actually the conditions were less difficult and dangerous than he anticipated. He believed that the route will be definitely a commercial proposition.

WELSH COAL MINERS TO STRIKE

London, Sept. 29. A strike of 14,000 miners in South Wales will start on Monday in connection with the campaign against non-Unionists who are less than two per cent, but it has aroused much bitterness.

U.S. NAVY

Big Building Scheme?

Washington, Sept. 27. Questioned at a Press conference about the published reports that Britain is about to launch a big naval building programme, Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, insisted that there had been no change in the naval situation.

Mr. Hull stated that he had received no information from the British Government regarding any change in the existing status of world navies. It was further stated by Mr. Hull that Mr. Bingham the U.S. Ambassador in London, had informed the State Department that the British Government had announced that there was no foundation for the stories published by the "Daily Express" and the "Daily Mail" to the effect that Britain would soon inform the United States of her intention to invoke the "escalator" clause of the London Treaty.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT

New York, Sept. 27. United States adherence to the naval limitation treaties was reaffirmed by President Roosevelt at a Press conference aboard a special train bound for California. The President said: "Only failure to renew these treaties, or denunciation thereof, could change the policy of the United States."

PRESS SPECULATION

New York, Sept. 28. Wide prominence is given in the Press to President Roosevelt's statement reaffirming American adherence to naval limitation treaties and there is speculation why the President should make such a statement at the present time.

The "Herald Tribune" thinks his purpose is probably to get Britain to think before launching on an enlarged naval building programme.

The "New York Times" says that despite the statement is in an indirect form undoubtedly the plain inference is that if all other powers build to treaty limits the United States is prepared to maintain the 5-5-3 ratio.

NAVAL RATINGS SWEEP INTO THE SEA

Terrifying Experience On H. M. S. Hermes

The amazing story of how eight naval ratings aboard the aircraft-carrier, Hermes, were swept overboard into the sea and afterwards rescued when the vessel encountered stormy weather on her voyage from Welhaven to Singapore is reported in the "Singapore Free Press" of September 21.

The paper says the Hermes is now anchored in the Roads and the men concerned are none the worse for their terrifying experience.

The accident happened at 10.30 p.m. The night was pitch dark, it was raining and blowing hard and the seas were mountainous. That no lives were lost under such conditions is regarded as a miracle by everyone aboard.

The order was "Full Steam Ahead" when one of the cutters underneath the flight-deck broke drift.

It was blowing a gale and seas were breaking over the decks but the cutter had to be made fast so eight ratings "jumped to it."

Suddenly they were overwhelmed by a huge wave, afterwards estimated to have been 20 feet high or more. The last of the cutter's fastenings broke off under the terrific strain like tree twigs snapped in the palm of a man's hand; the cutter, wrecked, was swept into the sea and all eight men with it. "Men, Overboard!" yelled the officer of the watch—and instantly two huge life-belts carrying special illuminations for use at night dropped to the dark and angry waves beneath.

The beams of every available searchlight cast wide lanes of pale light over the water.

The Hermes shuddered and stopped. Quickly—although all too slowly it must have seemed to the men within an age of a watery grave—she turned and as she turned a life-boat was lowered.

Rescuers and rescued were blessed with almost unbelievable luck. Two of the ratings had got their arms over a life-belt and five others were clinging to floating pieces of the wrecked cutter.

All were picked up, exhausted and scared but unhurt. The eighth man was found swimming strongly towards the Hermes on the other side. He, too, was saved.

The lifeboat was hoisted aboard. The Hermes' huge engines turned, at full speed once more, hot coffee was served, almost certainly some rum too, and all was well.

Shortly afterwards the Hermes ran into a typhoon—almost to its middle—but there was no mishap this time!

RYDER CUP GOLF

British Debacle

Ridgewood, N.J., Sept. 28.

There was rain in the morning and the greens were heavy for the Ryder Cup matches. The conditions should have suited the Britishers, but the Americans were vastly superior at the end of the morning round.

In the foursomes Sarazen and Hagen (v. Perry and Bussan, Britain) won 9 and 8; out 36-39.

Horton, Smith and Paul Runyan (v. Cox and Jarman, Britain) won 9 and 8; out 36-38.

Picard and Revolta (v. Padgham and Alliss, Britain) won 6 and 5; out 38-33.

E. Whitcombe and C. Whitcombe (v. Olin Dutra and Ky Laffoon, U.S.A.) won 1 up; out 39-40, home 38-38.

Whitcombe attributed the British debacle to possible stage fright of the youngsters. American critics are unanimous that the fault lay with the British who shot merely to reach the greens whereas the Americans aimed for the cup. The Americans conceded the Whitcombes the last hole when bunkered for four, whereas Ernest Whitcombe's putt was a couple of inches from the cup.

Sarazen and Hagen were not so deadly in the afternoon, especially the former.

SOUTH CHINA "A" SHOW GOOD FORM

The 1935-36 football season was ushered in with glorious weather and although it is yet much too early to make any forecasts, the form displayed by the various teams on the opening day leads one to the conclusion that the season will be a successful one.

A full programme of matches was carried out on Saturday & Sunday and many thousands of supporters, ever loyal to South China, turned out to watch their "A" taking full points from the East Lancashire Regiment at Caroline, thus starting the season in a manner worthy of the name of League Champions.

Yesterday Chinese Athletic met the Royal Artillery at Soekunpo and once more it was the Chinese who were triumphant, scoring two goals without any reply from the soldiers. In a second division game which was in the nature of a curtain raiser, East Lancs had the better of Eastern, the score being 3 goals to 1 in favour of the military.

The China Athletic "A" had their first league match against the R.A. at Soekunpo, and won by 2 goals to nil. The Gunners were a very weak combination and could not do very much with the happy Chinese team. The Chinese fielded their usual team, but a notable change was that of Darkie Chan to centre forward. The game opened with the Athletic making an unsuccessful raid on the right wing. A second move on the right wing gave Chan a header but this was missed. Then Ah-fai drove in a shot that went wide. Fifteen minutes after the start Kwong Sum netted with a delightful grounder to give the Chinese the lead. The Athletic continued pressing and the R.A. defence had a terrible time keeping the forwards at bay. A melee in front of the R.A. goal resulted. In Kwong Sum, who was playing magnificent football on the right wing sending in a piledriver from 20 yards out which beat McKrill all the way.

The R.A. forwards were a dejected lot and could not get going at all, or perhaps they found the Chinese defence much to their dislike. Tsui Ah-fai at centre half was up to his usual standard and found little difficulty in coping with the feeble R.A. forwards.

WING HONG MISSES

Kwong Sum sent over a good pass to Wong Wing Hong who missed a sitter right in front of the goal. Apparently he could connect properly with the result that his shot was a tame one which McKrill saved. Darkie Chan was always a great danger whenever he got possession but he was too well marked and did a wise thing to distribute whenever he got the ball. The R.A. defence were now kept very busy, and Huggins and Clampton at back and Morton at centre half played well to keep the Chinese from increasing their score.

Kwong Sum dropped a shot right in front of the R.A. goal, but Chan missed with his head. McKrill in the R.A. goal was playing a ripping game and was called time and again to save one very good effort in particular was a shot at point blank range from Lee Hung Ching. The ball rebounded to King Yu who sent it wide.

The interval arrived with the score 2-nil in favour of the Athletic. On the resumption D. Chan went to the inside right berth. The R.A. soon took the offensive but still their forwards lacked the finishing touches. Reeves was trying some long shots but these invariably went wide. Huggins and Clampton were both kept worried and had a busy time keeping "Darkie" and his wing partner away.

Rivers then took the ball on the right wing and drove in a hard shot which Tim Lim saved well. The Gunners were trying very hard at the closing stages of the match, but Ah-fai at centre half was as steady as a rock and refused to let them through his territory. He received full support from his two wing halves whenever the Gunners made a dangerous raid. The final whistle sounded with the score unchanged at 2-0.

EASTERN BEATEN

In a second division league encounter the East Lancashire Regiment defeated the Eastern Athletic by 3 goals to 1. The soldiers played delightful soccer and perfect understanding was a treat to watch.

Play started with the E. Lancs doing some pretty passing. The Chinese were inclined to bungle and as a result left the soldiers to do all the raiding. E. Lancs did most of the pressing in the first half and could do everything but score. The first half arrived with the score sheet blank.

THORPE NETS

Shortly after the resumption Thorpe netted for the E. Lancs and a few minutes later Costa put in another, thus giving the soldiers a 2-nil lead. Wing Sing got control of the ball and went in to score the first goal for the Chinese.

Just before the final whistle Ecclesley drove a hard shot from about 25 yards out which found the corner of the net, the soldiers thus winning by 3-1.

CLUB'S FINE START

The Club started the season in fine style when they met R.A. Stonecutters at the Valley and won by four clear goals.

The Club were superior in all departments, their combination being splendid. The Gunners on the other hand were a disjointed crowd, with only two of the players—Hall and Matthews—calling for any praise at all. The first goal was scored after fifteen minutes play and was the result of a fine passing move which enabled Fowler to find the net with a low drive. The Club scored their second goal five minutes after the resumption when Lammert gave Fowler the opportunity to score his second goal.

A few moments later the Club pressed again and Fowler took another crack at goal but Hall punched out, the ball going to Farrow who drove in a shot to beat Hall.

GUNNERS RALLY

At this stage the Gunners began to liven up and took the ball into the Club territory. Barracough sent in a terrific drive which Rodgers tipped over the bar for a fruitless corner.

The Club secured their last goal through Gilchrist who put the ball forward for Farrow to rush in and take it from Hall's feet and put it into an empty goal.

POLICE BEAT RECS

The Police soon settled down to work in their encounter with the Club de Recreio on the latter's ground at King's Park on Saturday, and ran out victors by 5 goals to 2.

The early raids of the Police were met with very stout resistance by A. V. Gosano and Bowan. After 15 minutes play Moss sent on a fine centre for Stevens to net with a good header.

The trouble with the Portuguese is that they have not the finishing touch and this was evident on Saturday. Gomes was quick with the ball but failed to follow up his tackles. Gonsalves played well during the early part of the first half but he soon tired. His shots were good from oblique angles and but for the sureness of McHardy in goal, they might have found the net.

STEVENS SCORES AGAIN

The Police soon settled down in the second half and five minutes after the start Stevens scored again. From a corner kick Green scored the third goal.

During a melee in front of the Recreio goal, Gosano put the ball into his own goal to give the police a 4-0 lead.

Blackburn, who played an excellent game, then handled in the penalty area, and B. Gosano scored with ease. This goal served as a stimulant for the Recreio and Gomes scored from 10 yards out from a good pass by Alves.

CHAMPIONS WIN

The commencement of the Football League saw South China "A", champions of last season, open their league programme with the East Lancs at Caroline Hill on Saturday with a five nil victory after a thrilling game. The game opened with the Chinese making the first raid, and Harmsworth was called upon to save from Fung. A good movement by Smith gave Mather the opportunity to put over a neat centre which Wong Wing Sing dashed away. Then Fung broke through to give the South China the lead. The speedy Chinese attack found the soldiers' intermediate line a bunch of spotters, and Lawton at pivot was excellent.

Just before the close of the first half the E. Lancs were attacking strongly but the Chinese defence lived up to the occasion and resisted every dangerous attack. Tam excelled with his headwork and Li's powerful first time kicking gave the ever trying E. Lancs forwards very little chance of taking a drive at goal.

FUNG SCORES

A breakaway by Ip, and a quick pass to Tay, saw the ball returned to the unmarked Fung, and he made no mistake with a low drive from 10 yards.

South China commenced the second half in brilliant style, adding two more goals in the first four minutes.

Fung was a very able leader and his accurate distribution to his wings left nothing to be desired. The fifth and last goal was the result of a fine pass from the left wing, and Fung sent on to Chan who made no mistake.

The teams were as follows:—South China "A":—Wong Wing; Tam, Kong-pak, Li Tin-sang; Leung Wing-chui, Wong Mee-shun, Lee Kwok-wai; Tso Kwai-shing, Chan Tak-fai, Fung King-cheong; Ip Pak-wa and Tay Quee-liang.

East Lancs:—Harmsworth; Swain, Steel; Smith, Lawton, North; Mather, Horner, Sandford, Ridings and Griffin.

SAINTS BEAT KOWLOON

At Causeway Bay St. Joseph's beat the Kowloon team to the tune of 6 goals to 1.

The Kowloon forwards tried the short passing game but were unable to penetrate the Saints' defence.

On the other hand the excellent work of Gurbachan Singh and the two inside forwards, Ward and Souza, proved too much for the Kowloon halves, White and Hesse were often called upon to drop back.

Before the first half was terminated the Saints had a 3 nil lead. Fernandes, the Saints' left wing, scored the fourth goal when his centre was deflected into the net by Everest. Gurbachan Singh scored the fifth goal as the result of a neat pass from the right wing, and just before the end Hussain added the sixth.

A DRAWN GAME

A thrilling encounter at Soekunpo on Saturday saw the Lincolns share points with the Fusiliers, both sides scoring 4 goals each.

The first goal came from Roberts with a grand shot from an awkward angle which surprised the Lincolns custodian. Shortly afterwards the Lincolns levelled with

HOCKEY

The "Y" Wins

The Y.M.C.A. seniors had their first practice hockey game on Saturday at King's Park when they beat H.M.S. Duncan by the odd goal in three after leading by 1-nil in the first half.

Play was very scrappy throughout and the opening found the "Y" attacking strongly through the Fowlers and Baldwin.

G.H. Fowler scored the first goal for the "Y" after some bright play. H.M.S. Duncan equalised in the second stanza through Smith and Baldwin who had been playing a very enterprising game scored the winning goal.

Y.M.C.A.:—Moss, Luke and Dorrner; J. M. Wilson, Bates and S. Smith; Macey, S. Fowler, G. H. Fowler, A. B. Henry and R. Baldwin.

H.M.S. Duncan: Whiskered; Wilson and Bishop; Shreeve, white and Lt. Comdr. Alexander; Hobson, Knight, Smith, Spurway and Lewis.

a penalty kick from which Baldry scored.

With the scores even the play began to brighten up and the Fusiliers scored a good goal through Sullivan.

After the interval the Lincolns were awarded another penalty and Baldry again scored from the spot. Fifteen minutes later Ellis put the Fusiliers further ahead from a free kick.

THIRD PENALTY

Not long after, however, another penalty award saw the scores levelled. Rowlands saved Baldry's first shot, but failed to prevent him from netting from close quarters before he had time to recover his position.

The Lincolns then went ahead with a smart goal from Ridley. Curiously enough the Fusiliers equalised when they were awarded a penalty kick, Harrison scoring.

Omar equalised for the "Press" with a ground shot that followed a good movement down field. The final whistle blew with play in midfield.

The outstanding player for the Club side was A. Peers, (centre half), who put in a lot of good spilling work. The pick of the Club forwards was G. Duncan. For the "Press" the forwards combined well, but were slow in front

CHINESE HARBOUR RACE

Easy Win For Canton Ace

Mak Wai Ming, a young Chinese swimmer from the Canton Athletic Association, carried off premier honours in the annual 1 1/2 miles cross harbour race, sponsored by the Chinese Athletic Association, when he finished first yesterday in the credible time of 27 mins. 42 7/10 secs. This race was swum in conjunction with the first Southern China aquatic meet. Shek Kam Pui (Mak Ngah Association) 29 mins. 13 secs. Ng Kit Men (Chung Shing A.A.) 31 mins. 7 8/10 secs, came in second and third respectively.

The first woman competitor in was Miss Chan Woon King of the Chinese A.A. who swam the race in 35 mins. 29 1/5 secs. She was closely followed by her sister, Miss Chan Yuk King (C.A.A.) in 35 mins. 31 8/10 secs. Miss Yip Chui Men (Chung Shing A.A.) came in third. All five of the women swimmers completed the course.

Nineteen competitors faced the starter on board a specially hired vessel on which they were taken approximately 1 1/2 miles away from the mainland in mid-stream. There was a strong current running towards West Point, near the finish which was responsible for taking a fair majority of the competitors off their course.

FIVE WOMEN

Five of the nineteen competitors were women, and all got off to a perfect start. Mak Wai Ming at once got into the lead, closely followed by a bunch of swimmers. After 500 yards had been completed the competitors began to spread out, and so grueling was the race, that five of the male competitors gave up before half the course had been completed.

EASY WIN

As the swimmers neared their goal, it was seen that Mak Wai Ming could not be challenged by any of the other competitors. He won comfortably with a clear 120 yards lead.

On Saturday, a strong wind and choppy sea marred the first Southern China aquatic sports, organised by the Chinese Athletic Association, but in spite of this handicap some very close and interesting finishes were witnessed.

The following were the results—

Ladies' Doubles: The Shanghai ladies were very lucky to win Mrs. Wilson, the Colony's first string ladies' doubles player, being in brilliant form throughout. Her net play was a decisive factor in the first set, in which she made numerous spectacular kills.

In the second set the games went with the services to 3-3 when the Shanghai ladies broke through their opponents' service. The visitors, however, evened up matters, and took the lead at 5-4 and twice held match-point.

In the third set Hong Kong led 2-0, but Shanghai levelled the scores, after which the visitors led 5-2 and again twice netted at match-point for the Shanghai ladies to sweep through for victory.

Singles Match: L. D. Carson beat Ho Ka-lau, the Colony's first string singles player, 7-5, 6-4, 5-7, 6-0.

Cubs Win The Pennant

New York, Sept. 27. The Chicago Cubs have gained the necessary points to ensure them the National Baseball League Pennant for the season, a victory against the St. Louis Cardinals to-day making them the undisputed champions and entitling them to challenge the American League winners for the World Series title.

This is the third time in six years that the Chicago Cubs have won the pennant and the fourteenth occasion since 1876 when the championships were inaugurated. The last the Cubs won was in 1932 when they lost to the New York Yankees in the World series.

Fine fielding and good pitching by Dizzy Dean enabled the Cubs to beat the Cardinals to-day by six runs to two. The game was played under most awful conditions after 30 hours of rain had made the field almost a quagmire. The Chicago fielding was sensational.

After their victory which gave them the pennant the Cubs played the Cardinals in the second game of a double header and won by five runs to three.

The New York Giants were also engaged in two matches, their opponents being the Boston Braves with whom they shared the honours.

A double header between the St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians in the American League was postponed on account of rain while a match between the Detroit Tigers and Chicago White Sox had to be postponed on account of the wet condition of the diamond.

Results of to-day's matches follow:

BERLIN SHARE MARKET

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Berlin, Sept. 27.

The firmness that characterized the share market on Thursday continued on Friday, buyers being active. The chief reason for this buoyancy is the relaxation of tension in the international political situation and the consequent favourable economic reports.

Dr. Schacht's speech at Saarbrücken on the coming legislation regulating the distribution of electoral powers made a deep impression and considerably improved the general outlook.

In the Fixed Interest Securities market price improvements were registered in all sections, the demand for gold mortgage bonds being particularly strong, the price level rising by about half per cent.
